The Great Canadian Shoreline Clean-Up is a nationwide shoreline cleanup initiative which began in British Columbia in 1994. Over the years the program continued to expand and was aided by sponsors and donors including WWF Canada, who became a full partner of the cleanup in 2010. On September 29th, 2006, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, along with 40 volunteers from a local school, cleaned up a shoreline along Cobourg Brook (figure 1). A total of 40 hours were worked by the youth and totaled $400 of in kind support towards the project clean up (figures 2).
